ad-ung man in a neighboring town seed for a wife under an assumed name. His sister answered the advertisement, also under an assumed name. Then photographs were exchanged, and now the young man thinks there is no harm in advertising and the old folk think it is pretty hard to have two foot in one family.—New London Record

George Feick, of this city has just been awarded the contract for the erection of a new chemical laboratory at Oberlin college. Work will begin at once on the foundations, which are to be put up this fall in order that work on the superstructure may go on early in the spring. The building may be completed in time for the beginning of the fall term 1900.—Sandusky Register.

"We saw an amusing sight the other day," said a wheelwoman who had been out on the path to Amherst. "A few miles out of Oberlin a young lady and gentleman were seated near their wheels beside the road and the young man was making desperate love to the girl. They were so preoccupied that they did not notice our approach until we were right upon them. It startled them so that the young man was unable to remove his arm from the waist of his companion but changing several different colors he hung on until we were past. I admire his pluck but would advise him to do his wooing in the shelter of a back parlor."—Oberlin Tribune.

Judge Fauver, Oberlin's worthy mayor, was at Elyria last night and sat upon the platform and applauded Senator Foraker's speech at every pause. At the close with many others he shook hands with the orator. As he came up Foraker said "I am glad to see you, but I forget your name." "Fauver" said the mayor.

DON'T BE AFRAID OF THE NAME.

Ath-lo-pho-ro is a hard name to read, pronounce and remember, but it is worth while to give it a prominent place in your memory. It means "The Prize Winner." It takes the prize for curing Neuralgia and Rheumatism. Many physicians will tell you that there is no cure for these troubles. They are mistaken and we have proof to that effect. Again, other physicians will tell you that Ath-lo-pho-ro does cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Now our advice to you is to investigate for yourselves and find out the truth. This remedy cannot hurt you, and we know that it will do you good. All success is won by unbiased thought. Think for yourself, now. Send for free treatise.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 3, 1898.
Gentlemen: I used your Ath-lo-pho-ro for Neuralgia and Rheumatism. I used six bottles and it has cured me of that disease. Please tell others of my experience and let them be cured.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

"Jones, the People's Man"

A DEPARTMENT CONDUCTED BY HIS FRIENDS.

Mark Your Ballot Thus:

STOP AND THINK!

Forget for a moment, if you can, that you are a republican or a democrat, and ask yourself: Is it not time for me to be a free man to vote independently of the party bosses and vote for a man who truly represents all the interests of the people, therefore my interests? Is it not a fact that all public utilities should be publicly owned? Is it not detrimental to me and to all the people of the state, to allow a valuable franchise to be turned over to private parties to be operated to make money regardless of the welfare of the people whose franchise it is? Ought not the public at all times to retain such control of franchises as will accrue to the benefit of the whole, and protect them against the nefarious outrages constantly sought to be perpetrated on the public by scheming corporations? Think over these questions seriously and then ask yourself: What is my party doing to remedy these wrongs? Vote for Jones.

Anything to Beat Jones.

Republican and Democratic Bosses agree that the peoples candidate must not win.

The Demo-Republican bosses in state have now been forced into an attitude similar to that of the Demo-Republican bosses in the Toledo campaign last spring, is evidenced by two remarkable declarations made in public addresses this week. If any person is yet laboring under the delusion that political parties mean anything else than the suppression or distortion of the will of the people, or that, despite all their pretended partisan differences, they are not united in every material issue, let him carefully consider the unanimity with which Hon. J. B. Foraker and the Hon. John R. McLean agree that machines, both of them, must be protected at all hazards. If you can't vote for Nash, vote for McLean, is the advice of Foraker. If you can't vote for McLean vote for Nash, is the advice of McLean. Don't vote for Jones—you might thus be voting for yourself. Vote for machines. The will of any machine, of any boss, is preferable to the will of the people. This is what they say:

From address of John R. McLean, at Lima, October 6.

Mr. Jones is a gentleman, a good-hearted man, a splendid citizen, all that makes a man's position in the world enviable. Don't shoot in the air. Don't lose it. Vote for the democratic ticket or for Nash.

From address of Joseph B. Foraker, at Cadiz, October 7.

You must choose this year between Nash and McLean. I don't count Jones in it. He don't belong to any party. He has a queer idea about almost everything.

The news from Cleveland grows better daily. Here are a few straws:

Ninety per cent of the union bricklayers are for Jones.

All employees of the Johnson Elevator Co. are for Jones.

The 18 employees of Warden's carriage works are all for Jones.

Ninety per cent of the line men of the city are for Jones.

In one of the power houses, out of eight employees seven are for Jones and one for Nash.

The six employees of Henger's carriage works are all for Jones.

Straw votes taken last week in a Toledo cigar factory: Jones, 7; Nash, 1. Total, 8.

"Mr. Jones' buttons are very much in evidence on our streets," writes an employee of one of the most important mercantile institutions of Cleveland, "more than those of both the other candidates combined."

The night force of a large rolling mill of Youngstown was polled last week and showed the following results: Jones, 190; Nash, 0; McLean, 6; non-committal, 11; total of night force, 307. The day force will show as well for Jones.

A straw vote taken in the Permanent block, Cleveland, an office block, the rooms of which are rented almost exclusively to professional men, many of whom are physicians, resulted as follows:

Jones.....69
Nash.....31
McLean.....15

Total.....115

As an indication of how McLean stands in the city of his alleged residence, Cincinnati, the following authentic straw votes may be studied:

Fritz Bros' cigar factory—
Jones.....53
Nash.....5
McLean.....1

Total.....59

Three-fourths of the members of the local typographical union are for Jones. Printers are thinking men, educated and up-to-date, and it is not out of the way to find them supporters of a method that means an end to political corruption.

Zanesville Sunday News.

STANDING BY THE FLAG OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

"O, certainly, I remember you well." Either from the embarrassment or from seeing him in a different light the judge did not recognize the man whom he had heard make many a speech and he said hesitatingly, "But I don't recall your name." "Foraker," said the senator. Then Fauver smiled and Judge Steel, E. G. Hale, Peck and all the other fellows roared over his discomfiture. One of them even offered to take him home and introduce him to his family.—Lorain Times.

Forty-three head of thoroughbred Herford cattle from Pittsfield, lately belonging to the estate of G. W. Probert deceased, were loaded in two cattle cars at the depot grounds last Tuesday. The cars were attached to the midnight local west to Toledo and from there were made a part of the live stock express, and will be hurried to their destination, near Emporia, Kansas. Residents of the vicinity of Pittsfield and Oberlin felt sorry to see this fine herd of cattle go from this neighborhood, but no purchaser being found about here by D. G. Probert, administrator of the estate, he disposed of them to a Mr. Seamon of Emporia, Kan. F. A. Salter, who has had charge of the cattle for some time, and Grevel Watkins, of Pittsfield went on the train to take care of the cattle en route. A number of Oberlin and Pittsfield ladies and gentlemen were interested spectators, while the cattle were being loaded.—Oberlin News.
